Teachers Excursion.

The exciting Teachers returned from their two days visit to Gallipolis on Tuesday night all tired, but all well pleased with the excursion. The intensely hot weather marred the delights somewhat, but the weather they claim would have been as dispiriting at home with none of the exhilaration the excursion afforded.

The excursionists consisted of all the Teachers and all the members of the School Board except Dr. Blosser who was detained by imperative professional duty. Mrs. Robert Work, Mr. Russell and daughter, Mr. Green and family, Miss Nell Baker of Columbus Journal, Miss Ida McCarthy of Sentinel, Mr. G. G. Gage and wife and Miss Dollison, Teacher at Jobs.

The program was Reception and Banquet Monday night by Gallipolis Teachers, Boat Ride on Tuesday tendered by Postmaster Dunbar, and Dinner at Hospital for Epileptics by courtesy of Dr. Rutter.

The SEXTON reporter, having full notes of the trip, was still asleep when "copy" for the report was called by the unsympathetic printer and so it is like the trip once was, put off.

Our Grace-ious reporter says it will keep, and if not so seasonable, there will be more of it next week.

Fire at New Straitsville.

A destructive fire occurred at New Straitsville on Sunday morning about three o'clock, when it was discovered that the town stood in imminent danger of being wiped off the earth, and the timely action of the fire department alone saved it. As a result of the fire Pete Kramer, a young man without a home, 33 years of age, lies dead, burned beyond recognition, and Jim Daniels, jr., is seriously burned.

The fire originated at the livery stables owned by J. L. West and spread to the Grand opera house, a dwelling adjoining it and two blacksmith shops, all of which were completely destroyed except the opera house which was damaged about $500 worth. Twelve horses, fourteen buggies and several tons of hay were also burned. Pete Kramer, who occupied a bunk in the stable, did not awaken in time to escape and met with an awful death in the flames.

Jim Daniels and Bob McFall, employees of the stable, occupied the house adjoining the stable and barely escaped with their lives. Daniels is burned seriously around the head and body and McFall is but slightly scorched.

The former fell, overcome by the smoke and McFall leaped through the window and pulled him out through the flames. It was reported that an umbrella repairer and a tramp were burned up also, but the workmen have been unable to find their bodies in the ruins, and it is probable they left town before the fire started. The loss to the buildings is estimated at $8000, which is nearly all covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

BASE BALL.

Our lovers of the National game were treated to some very good playing on last Saturday between a nine from Sugar Grove and our home team.

In the first inning the visitors went to the bat and pounded out two runs.

The home team then came to the bat and made three scores.

In the second inning the visitors scored four times when a dispute between the umpire and the home team catcher came near bringing the game to an abrupt termination but fortunately the decision of the umpire was so glaringly wrong that it was repudiated by the visitors themselves the Logan boys took their turn at bat and stamped the home plate for two runs.

Standing of game at end of second inning Sugar Grove 6 Logan 5.

The visitors came smilingly to the bat in the third but their efforts were barren of results while the Logan boys scored twice, and led the game by one point.

The fourth inning was an all round white wash.

The fifth gave Sugar Grove 3 and Logan 4.

The sixth was a whitewash for Sugar Grove while the home team added three more runs to their score.

In the seventh good batting and costly errors increased the total score of the visitors by four, while our boys made only one.

The eighth inning was a whitewash for both sides as was the first half of the ninth.

The score being, Sugar Grove 13, Logan 16, the game was declared ended and our Logan boys winners.

THE STRIKE.

The Great Coal Miner's strike is ended for the present.

At least a compromise scale of prices has been agreed on by the committees appointed for that purpose.

That there should be some manifestations of discontent on both sides is quite natural for some men are so constituted by nature that they will not yield their opinion on any subject for the combined wisdom of the ages.

Such men whether operators or miners will grumble and complain, but these are in a hopeless minority and must either swallow their discontent and fall into the line of march or get out of the way of the procession, for the world is moving and has no time to wait on laggards and malcontents.

This has been in many respects the greatest strike this country or perhaps the world has ever seen.

The number of strikers was greater than ever before, and the effects were more far reaching and diversified.

The lesson of mutual dependence of each particular industry on the others has been pictured in glowing colors and will not soon be forgotten.

That there should be some riotous acts and destruction of property was to be expected and that there was not much more of lawlessness and anarchy is the greatest wonder, for in the vast number of the strikers, must be some who have little knowledge and no respect for the rights of others.

We are glad to note the fact that in Hocking county there was not, so far as we can learn, a single act of violence or disorder.

This speaks well for the class of men who work in the mines of this locality, they are honest men and good citizens, as they have proved by their temperate action during the struggle.

The only acts of lawlessness, in this State, was such as grew out of the action of some of the railroads in attempting to move coal from the non-striking W. Va. district to various points, and as the C. H. V. & T. did not take any part in the attempt the most amicable feelings existed between the road and the strikers.

The new scale is 60 cents per ton in Ohio and 60 cents in Pennsylvania for pick mining, this being ten cents per ton less than the price demanded and ten cents more than heretofore paid.

Whether the price for mining demanded by the strikers is too high or not we are not in position to know, but certainly, in view of the great danger to life and limbs, the miner should not be regarded a generous measure of pay for his service.

Vinton Brain Rackers on the Rack.

From the McArthur Republican.

Much complaint has been and is being made of the unfair, impractical and enigmatical puzzles which the so-called county board of school examiners put before teachers instead of practical, legitimate questions which the teachers of the county have a right to expect. Technical, complicated questions, "catch" problems—questions and problems wholly irrelevant to the work of a teacher, and which are not a fair test of the applicant's knowledge—such questions as we know are presented by the examiners of Vinton county, indicate on the part of the examiner a degree of incompetency, ignorance and narrow minded egotism worthy the veriest "mossback" pedagogue of the most obscure cross-roads of Hoop-pole township. We will venture to say that questions have been asked and problems propounded by the Vinton county board in the past weeks that the man who proposed them could not answer or solve, unaided by a text-book to save his neck from John Brown's gibbet.

This cry of "keeping up the standard" and the methods used to accomplish it have made Vinton county's examiners the laughing stock of surrounding counties. If plain, practical, common-sense questions were used in this county as are used in most other counties, the standard would be vastly improved and Vinton county would have a greater number of intelligent teachers and fewer walking encyclopedias and knowledge-boxes. It is also charged that glaring partiality is used by the board in granting certificates. Worthy teachers are made to fail and unmeritorious ones are made successful at the will of the board. There is evidently something wrong—an Ethiopian in the fuel pile somewhere.

Take a Laugh.

There is absolutely nothing that will help you bear the ills of life so well as a good laugh. Laugh all you can. If the clothes line breaks, if the cat tips over the milk and the dog elopes with the roast, if the children fall into the mud simultaneously with the advent of clean aprons, if the new girl quits in the middle of house-cleaning and though you search the earth with candles you can find none other to take her place; if the neighbor in whom you have trusted goes back on you and keeps chickens, if the chariot wheels of the uninvited guest draw near when you are out of provender and the gaping of your empty purse is like the unfilled mouth of a young robin, take courage if you have enough sunshine in your heart to keep a laugh on your lips.—Exchange.

Count Tolstoi.

Count Tolstoi is thus described by his latest visitor, who found him at home: "After passing down long corridors, which are like so many entrenchments around Tolstoi's study, I at last stood before this remarkable man. I saw him just as the celebrated picture shows him—in his full peasant's smock, a belt round his waist, with the white beard, the melancholy, deep-set eyes, the coarse gray hair, the thoughtful, wrinkled brows, the strong hands accustomed to work, which during his conversation he keeps passing through his belt, and the whole touching earnestness which surrounds the man. Count Leo Tolstoi makes the impression of a figure out of the Bible."
